

FÉDÉRATION
INTERNATIONALE
DE NATATION

Published on fina.org - Official FINA website (//www.fina.org)

History

Water polo took its lead from rugby football and was played in rivers and lakes. The original ball was made from a pig's stomach and the early game often relied on brute strength. Today, strength still counts for much but the skills of players are mesmerising, the pace of the play breathtaking.
