

Women's Head Coach

UWA City Beach Water Polo Club (Inc) Full Time Position

UWACBWPC is one of Australia's leading water polo clubs and is the current Men's National League Champions. The club also holds all National Junior Men's titles a feat which has never been achieved before.

The club is looking to employ a full time Women's Head Coach to drive a similar level of success with the Women's program. The successful applicant will coach the club's NWPL team, State Premier League team and National Age Group teams.

The UWACBWPC provides:

- strong administrative support as it is affiliated with the Sports Faculty of the University of Western Australia which is based in Perth Western Australia.
- over 750 playing members and a strong supporter base drawing from the University's 30,000 plus students.
- a fully integrated development program from introductory water polo (Flippa Ball) through to senior National League for both men and women.
- access to first class aquatic facilities ensures the club is able to offer an elite training environment.

The club's over arching objective is to offer all players the opportunity to develop to their full potential and to present competitive teams at all national age group competitions.

The successful applicant will possess the following skills:

- Experience in teaching the skills required to coach water polo at an elite level
- Able to teach junior players the advanced skills of water polo
- Organisational skills to implement training programs to meet the clubs high performance coaching objectives
- Interpersonal skills in managing player development, family interactions and team management
- Communications skills – Fluent English speaking & writing and computer based skills
- Passion for the game and preferably past playing experience at an elite level

The successful applicant will join into a co-ordinated program working alongside the current Men's Head Coach and directing the current Junior Women's Development Coach.
