PR 27 – Mixed celebrations in California's Diving Grand Prix

FINA Communications Department

The third leg of the FINA Diving Grand Prix 2019 [1] concluded last night in Mission Viejo, California, USA, as the host nation clinched three gold medals.

In the individual events, Briadam Herrera (USA) took gold with 438.10 in the men's 3m event, while Hailey Hernandez (USA) was the best in the women's equivalent (312.75). Teammates Alison Gibson and Krysta Palmer pocketed the gold on offer in the women's 3m synchro (294.39).

Mexico's Randall Willars Valdez topped the men's 10m (479.55), while together with teammate Diego Balleza, they claimed victory in the men's 10m (431.67). Diego Balleza, together with Maria Sanchez, gave their country its third gold medal of the meet in the mixed 10m (308.88).

Jordan Houlden / Anthony Harding of Great Britain bagged the gold at stake in the men's 3m synchro (384.93), while Phoebe Banks / Emily Martin, representing the same nation, topped the women's 10m synchro (300.36).

Australia and Italy, with Melissa Wu and Maicol Verzotto / Elena Bertocchi, were the other nations to access the first step of the podium this weekend with 355.80 points in the women's 10m and 280.86 in the mixed 3m respectively.

Detailed results can be found here [2].

The 2019 circuit of the Diving Grand Prix next stops in Madrid (ESP) from June 7-9, before heading to Bolzano (ITA) from June 14-16. The competition will then move to Africa, Oceania and Asia.
